Study Sanity Of Rudolf Hess Before Trials

Allied War Crimes Tribunal
Orders Examination Of Hess' Mental State

VON BOHLEN'S HEALTH
ALSO TO BE PROBED

NUERNBERG, Nov. 5.—(INS)—By order of the allied war crimes tribunal, physicians today began examining the sanity of Rudolf Hess and the general health of Alfred Krupp von Bohlen, both high on the list of 23 Germans to be tried as major war criminals.

The examination of Hess once second in command to Adolf Hitler began after Maj. Douglas S. Kelly and Professor Krasnitskin, American and Russian psychiatrists, expressed doubts about his condition.

Studying Hess

An American psychiatrist is studying Hess' mental state. Hitler's former deputy, who parachuted into England early in the war, has claimed he is suffering from amnesia.

A medical panel was ordered to Salzburg to examine Krupp, head of the great German arms trust, who now is at an American military hospital. He reportedly was bedridden after several strokes which induced partial paralysis and left him unable to talk.

But if Hess and Krupp are unable to be tried, the evidence against them could be used against the other defendants under terms of the monstrous conspiracy charged in the allied indictment.

If the examination proves Hess insane, the proceedings won't be dropped until prosecutors of the four major allies agree that the insanity findings are irrefutable.

Shot to death, the body of Mrs. Alberta Rose Young (above), 33, was found in the Clinton river at Pontiac, Mich., and was identified by fellow employees of a tool plant. Her husband, Maj. Franklin Young, is now homeward bound from France.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Water in pans which was left out-side Saturday night was found frozen Sunday morning.

Snow flurries were noted at 11:15 Sunday morning in the city, but more predominate at 3:25 p. m. according to Pa Newc's observation.

Despite the fact that there is not a great deal of contest in the local elections on Tuesday, there is an obligation on voters to turn out and cast a ballot. Several state-wide amendments are to be decided upon, and superior court judges are also to be named.

In the Saturday issue of The News the birth column showed ten births reported, and nine of them were girls.

Pa Newc, driving along the Wilmington road, several miles from town Sunday afternoon, saw a farmer going into his barn, with four small black cats on his trail.

From the number of "No Hunting" signs posted around the district it would appear to be rather difficult for many hunters to find a place where they would be free to hunt.

Some store windows are already beginning to reflect the approaching Christmas period.

In connection with the query recently as to what happened to those who drew 158, the first number drawn in the draft lottery five years ago, Shield C. Kennedy, of rear Pearson street, reports that his son, Victory Shields, who drew 158, was not called into service, due to his work with a local railroad.

Local residents were treated to their first visible evidence of snow Sunday morning, when several snow flurries were noticed. It was also rather chilly over the weekend, ice having formed both Sunday morning, in shallow pools. The temperature this morning was down around 25 degrees, it was noted.

One of Pa Newc's 15-year-old new boys, Cliff Hoch, of R. D. 3, Pulaski road, came home Saturday evening a three-pound ringneck pheasant. The boy, who has been hunting only one or two times before, "got" the bird with a 22-gauge rifle. Not so bad for a beginner.

Expect Russia Will Join Far Eastern Commission

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(INS)—Diplomatic developments pointed today to the probability that Soviet Russia would agree momentarily to join in the Far Eastern advisory commission sessions.

An announcement was expected at any time that Russia had decided to name a delegate to the commission, which was scheduled to hold its second session in Washington tomorrow.

The opening meeting was brief and ended in a week's postponement when the USSR failed to send a representative. China moved to adjourn in an obvious effort to settle existing differences.

Few Contests Of State-Wide Scope Tuesday

Superior Court Judges To Be Elected—Interest
Centers On Local Battles

JUDGES AND MAYORS WILL BE SELECTED

HARRISBURG, Nov. 5.—(INS)—The first peace time election in four years was expected today to be marked by strict party voting for two $10,000 a year posts on the superior court with many local contests overshadowing the statewide balloting.

Polling places throughout Pennsylvania will open at 7 a. m. and close 13 hours later.

Approximately 4,400,000 voters will be eligible to vote, according to the state elections bureau. Unofficial registration figures were Republicans, 2,567,800; Democrats, 1,772,429; other parties combined, 55,505.

ELECT 20 MAYORS

Mayors will be elected in 20 cities while judges will be selected in 32 counties and four proposed amendments to the state constitution considered.

The only contests to be decided by statewide voting will be for the Appellate court. The victors will begin 10-year terms in January.

Republicans have stated incumbents Judges W. Heber Dietrich of Coraopolis and John C. Arnold of Clearfield, while Democrats have endorsed John Morgan Davis, Philadelphia attorney, and Judge A. Marshall Thompson of Gibsonia.

The Prohibition party has entered C. Wilfred Conrad of Lansdowne and Charles Palmer of Ridley Park.

For State Superior Court the Republicans and Democrats have named two candidates each. For local offices most of the Republican candidates have the Democratic nomination also.

The polls open Tuesday morning at seven o'clock and close at eight o'clock at night. As soon as election returns are completed, boards are required to take them to the court house immediately where the members will be paid for their day's service.

Ten-Year Search For Suspect In Slaying Ended

Man Arrested In Akron As Suspect
In 1935 Slaying In East
Liverpool, O.

AKRON. Nov. 5.—(INS)—A 10-year search for a suspected Christmas day slayer was climaxed today by his arraignment before the United States commissioner in Akron.

The hunted man, Clinton Harrison Daniels, 32, was arrested in Akron Saturday on a fugitive warrant by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to Harry T. O'Connor, chief of the Cleveland FBI office.

O'Connor said that Daniels was charged with the holdup slaying of Clarence Dickey in East Liverpool, O., on Christmas morning of 1935 while the latter was delivering milk with his brother, Frank. Dudley Adams and Beryl Rogers, also of East Liverpool, are serving life sentences in the Ohio Penitentiary for the murder.

recent statements have expressed the confidence that Russia would join the talks, indicating the matter was nearing a solution.

However, it was not considered likely that Russia would have a representative at the second session, because the outstanding candidate for the post of delegate, Ambassador Andrei A. Grromyko, still was in Moscow.

The commission was formulated at the invitation of the United States to devise policies for the guidance of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in ruling the Japanese areas of Asia.

Original stumbling block was Russia's proposal for establishment of a control council in the Far East similar to the one set up for ruling Germany.

of Shan-Hai-Kuan in Honch province by rushing reinforcements in American cars."

American planes were said in a London radio broadcast to be patrolling a 60-mile stretch of the Peiping-Tientsin railroad, and to have dropped Central government parachutist troops in the area. NBC said the broadcast.

At the same time, the Communist paper reiterated its party's rejection of new Chungking proposals to avert open warfare.

"Only when Kuomintang troops cease attacking liberated areas and withdraw from regions which they seized from the peoples' troops will the Communist party be willing to come to terms with the Kuomintang," declared the paper.

Chinese Communist armies were reported to keep Suiyuan province in a three-pronged drive to seize North China's vital rail network and establish an autonomous government for Inner Mongolia.

PRESIDENT SAYS INDUSTRY MUST KEEP OPERATING

in the actual process of collective bargaining," Mr. Truman said, "dealing tactics are practiced with the result that there is no real bargaining. There can be no justification for such tactics at the present time, in the future."

APPEAL TO BOTH SIDES

The president's address was an appeal to labor and management to get together and to settle their differences in an orderly manner through collective bargaining, and at the same time keep the nation's wheels turning uninterruptedly to assure the nation's prosperity and speedy reconversion.

Mr. Truman said that he hopes he can "give up the president's wartime powers as soon as possible, so that management and labor can again have the full and undivided responsibility for providing the production that we must have to safeguard our domestic economy and our leadership in international affairs."

The conference was told that the country "is worried about our industrial relations."

RIGHT TO BE WORRIED

"It has a right to be," the president emphasized. "That worry is reflected in the halls of congress in the form of all kinds of proposed legislation."

You have it in your power to stop that worry," he told the labor and management leaders.

"I make no effort to fix the blame. I have tried to lay fairly before the people the position of labor and the position of industry. They both have problems—grave and worrisome problems. Especially they are not insoluble problems. Essentially they are problems of adjustment to the drastic changes brought about by three and a half years of war."

CANNOT STOP RECONVERSION

The President told the assemblage that the important thing to remember is that those problems and their solution "cannot be allowed to stop us in our struggle to reconver from war to peace."

"For until we successfully reconver our productive capacity, we cannot hope to proceed toward our goal of full employment and an increased standard of living," he said.

If labor and management, in an industry or in a company, find that they cannot come to a agreement, a way must be found of resolving their differences without stopping production.

"Finding the best way to accomplish that result without government directive to either labor or industry—that is our job."

MANY CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED

There are many considerations involved. At the basis of them all is not only the right, but the duty to bargain collectively. I do not mean giving mere lip service to that abstract principle. I mean the willingness on both sides, yes, the determination to approach the bargaining table with an open mind, with an appreciation of what is on the other side of the table and with a firm resolve to reach an agreement fairly."

If that fails, if bargaining produces no result, then there must be a willingness to use some impartial machinery for reaching decisions on the basis of proven facts and realities, instead of rumors or propaganda or partisan statements.

That is the way to eliminate unnecessary friction. That is the way to prevent lockouts and strikes. That is the way to keep production going."

MUST LIVE UP TO CONTRACTS

Mr. Truman told the conference that methods will have to be found not only for peaceful negotiations of labor contracts, but also of insuring industrial peace for the lifetime of such contracts.

Contracts once made must be lived up to and should be changed only in the manner agreed upon by the parties, he said. If we expect confidence in agreements made, there must be responsibility and integrity on both sides in carrying them out."

The President said that the whole system of "private enterprise and individual opportunity" depends upon finding solutions to the present bickering between labor and management.

Independent unions, who have not been given representation in the meeting, established the picket line along historic Constitution avenue as the most important domestic conclave in four years prepared to open with an address by President Truman.

Independents want to attend.

Edward G. Wilms, chairman of the independent unions of New Jersey, sent Judge Walter P. Stacy of the North Carolina supreme court, who was to call the gathering to order, the following telegram:

"Let's make the conference democratic. Invite the independent unions' representatives who are waiting outside."

Wilms said the independent unions would make no effort to enter the conference unless invited.

The man from Independence, Mo., forgot the independent unions we fought for democracy, let's have it—40 million workers ignored by Labor Department."

Matthew Wohl, vice president of the AFL, T. C. Cashen, president of the Railroad Switchmen's union, and other industry and labor delegates, paid only fleeting attention to the pickets as they filed into the auditorium. The pickets came from New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

OTHER SPEAKERS

The opening meeting of the parley constituted itself a forum for the statement of aims, aspirations and problems of the speakers on the agenda were:

Secretary of Labor, Louis B. Schwellenbach, and Secretary of Commerce, Harry A. Wallace, co-chairmen of the conference; CIO President Philip Murray; AFL President William Green; Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Ira Mosher, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Back To Normal

At a recent press conference President Truman lightly sidestepped a question about his future political intentions. But he, as every reporter present, knew the answer. It is as certain as anything can be that Mr. Truman will seek a second term, and nothing that can happen between now and 1948 is apt to alter that probability.

For the time being Democratic politicians accept this prospect gladly. Mr. Truman is considerably more manageable if far less colorful than his predecessor in the White House. Even though his popularity may fade some during the conflicts of the next three years, the party will find it extremely difficult to deny a first-term president a chance to run again without openly branding his administration as a failure.

At the moment there is nothing to tempt them to take such a risk. The same factors which made Mr. Truman a satisfactory compromise candidate for the vice-presidency in 1944 are still operating in the executive departments. The chairman of that committee, representative Manasco of Alabama announced at the outset that he was against it.

Chairman Manasco has allowed his hearings to wander all over the country. The ranking Republican on the committee, representative Holman of Michigan, has played the game of delay and obstruction by asking irrelevant questions that lead witnesses astray.

Nevertheless, the chances are that modified full employment bill, designed by Truman as an essential part of his program has been adrift in the committee on expenditure in the executive departments.

The chairman of that committee, representative Manasco of Alabama announced at the outset that he was against it.

None of this is half as interesting though, as the fact that Americans are once more idly speculating about a second term rather than a third, a fourth, or even a fifth. That is a real relief.

We Must Face It

We might as well face it. The victory of our boys over the enemy does not end the war as far as its financing is concerned. The home front must continue this job for many years.

The war, including veteran allowances for hospitalization and rehabilitation, will cost the home front about $34 billion of dollars by next June. We have the word of the bureau of the budget for that.

Four billion dollars of the above is for veterans alone. Add to another four billion each year for the next 10 years and you have the estimated veteran hospitalization and rehabilitation cost. Those are only estimated. The final figures may be much greater.

On top of this is a sum of five billion annually for interest on the public debt of $292,200,000,000, that is more than 295 billion of dollars. Then big corporations and individuals will pay less in taxes due to the peace. But the money will have to be forthcoming just the same—from some other source.

That is the real reason for the Victory Loan. The truth is we must have the money. The Victory Loan gives us the opportunity of our own free wills to lend it to our government. This could only happen in America: the financing of a war and its disabled—at a profit to the Victory Bond investor.

So set your personal quota in the Victory Loan—then let nothing keep you from making it. Victory Bonds offered now are for all purposes, education of your child when it grows up, modernization of the farm or home when it needs it later, training for some poor fellow who can't do many jobs because of war injuries. Buy now, no matter how much you lend, it won't ever hurt as much as the physical handicaps sustained by many veterans.

Support Chest And War Fund Drive

It shouldn't be necessary to point out that the War Relief Fund and Chest campaign, now in progress here, puts a new and special responsibility squarely up to every person in this county.

This is because now that the war is ended, not all may realize just why the many agencies composing this enterprise need more support than ever.

The shooting is over, but we are still at grips with other enemies than the Axis.

Hunger, cold and illness threaten millions of unfortunate in lands across the sea.

Discouragement faces our sick and wounded veterans, who have been brought back to the homeland. They must be made to feel that America is not ungrateful.

We also have a continuing duty to perform for the members of our armies of occupation. Their morale must be sustained as in the days when they were braving death on the firing line.

Nor can we fail to maintain, in peace as in war, the host of agencies that contribute to the health and well-being of our home community.

This is no time for a letdown in any of these benevolent activities. Here is the opportunity for all to make a single gift in which many agencies will share.

Scores of volunteer solicitors have pledged their time and energy to make this a Victory Drive in a double sense: to express our joy over the decisive victory that has crowned our arms and to insure that this campaign shall be victorious in reaching its goal.

Do your part!

City To Teach Farming

High on Cleveland's list of postwar projects is a 160-acre demonstration farm to be established less than two miles from the business section on the city's undeveloped Lake Erie front.

The purpose of this rural enterprise in a city setting, Mayor Thomas A. Burke points out, is to give farmers a chance to see the latest types of farm machinery and implements in operation, to provide expert information on scientific methods of raising crops, to make soil conservation techniques available to farmers and city dwellers alike, to let children see what farm life is like. A long-range aim of the project is to make Cleveland a center of the farm implement manufacturing industry.

People now understand Russia better than in the days when Churchill described the Soviet as a puzzle inside a riddle wrapped in an enigma.

Commenting on the strikes one of our neighbors says that if his take-home pay should shrink any he would never be able to explain it to his wife.

Third-rate powers, using atomic bombs, could conquer the world, it is argued. Not as long as the bomb remains the secret of the first rate power.

It is reported that Senator Pepper of Florida told Premier Stalin that he is very affectionately regarded by the people of the United States as "Uncle Joe." You wouldn't try to kid him, would you, Claud?

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Congressional Races

Promise Real Battles

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Just a year away are the congressional elections when candidates for house and senate will take the stump with loud claims and counter-claims.

The Democrats will of necessity run on a platform of loyalty to the president. They will be looking to 1948 and Truman's re-election.

But unless there is a radical and unforeseen change, that is likely to be a pretty shaky platform. The Democrats themselves are writing the record today, and it is a record, not of support but of repudiation of almost every measure the president has requested.

The president's talk with the Democratic members of the house ways and means committee seems to have had little effect. The $25-a-week unemployment compensation bill is still bottled up in that committee.

There is hope that the legislation will reach the floor through a petition signed by the required 125 members of the house. Once on the floor it may have tough going, particularly in the fact of the persistent absenteeism on the part of a shockingly large proportion of representatives.

Many Absent

As many as a hundred representatives have been absent from roll calls on fairly important questions. Congress complains about strikes and the failure of workers to take jobs that are offered. Yet a great many congressmen neglect their own responsibilities.

The full employment bill, designed by Truman as an essential part of his program has been adrift in the committee on expenditure in the executive departments.

The chairman of that committee, representative Manasco of Alabama announced at the outset that he was against it.

Chairman Manasco has allowed his hearings to wander all over the country. The ranking Republican on the committee, representative Holman of Michigan, has played the game of delay and obstruction by asking irrelevant questions that lead witnesses astray.

Child Is Killed; Ten Injured In Traffic Mishaps

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 5.—(INS)—A child was killed and 10 persons were injured in the Pittsburgh area over the week-end in a series of automobile accidents, police today reported.

Paul Welsbacher, 6, of Pittsburgh, was killed when the car in which he was riding with his mother, Mrs. Mercedes Welsbacher, plowed into a culvert near Greensburg. Mrs. Welsbacher suffered shock and cuts and bruises about the body.

In another accident nine Pittsburghers were injured, including Loretta Lee, Miss Pittsburgh of 1944, when an automobile crashed into the doorway of a night club.

Besides Miss Lee, Peggy Wallace and Peggy North, dancers of Pittsburgh, William McRobie, Greensburg, John Klaunko, John Hayduk, Harry Green Jr., all of Belle Vernon, Rudy Forty of Monessen, and Frank Stefanie of Greensburg, were also injured in the accident.

They were taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital where seven were detained for further treatment.

Police said the accident occurred when McRobie, driver of the car, swerved to avoid crashing into a car pulling away from the curb.

New Airline To Denmark Now Being Planned

CHICAGO Nov. 5.—(INS)—Establishment of an airline route between Copenhagen, Denmark and either New York or Chicago within a few months was announced today.

Per Kampman, chairman of the Danish Air Lines, said he had purchased eight Douglas C-54 planes to fly the route, and that service will be established as soon as arrangements have been made with the U. S. State department.

Kampman, who with Prince Axel, cousin of the Danish king, has been attending the civil air conference at Montreal, made the announcement in Chicago before entraining for New York.

Mercer County Farmhouse Burns

SHARPSVILLE Nov. 5.—The six-room frame farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George Finzel and family, on the New Virginia-Bethel road, Hickory township, was destroyed by a $4,000 fire Friday night. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

The owners, with their son and two daughters, were away from home when a passerby noticed smoke pouring from the building and turned in an alarm, which was answered by the Hickory and Sharpsville fire departments.

However, the flames had gained great headway and the building burned to the ground, with only the kitchen furnishings saved.

LILACS, DOGWOOD AND PUSSY WILLOWS

THINK IT'S SPRING

BUTLER, Nov. 5.—Spring has come again!

At least that is the opinion of Dr. Harold Moore of Saxonburg.

Saturday Dr. Moore was exploring his garden when he found that his lilacs were in bloom and that pussy willows were budding, dead.

The lilacs and pussy willows are decorating the table in the Moore home.

And to add to the general seasonal confusion the dogwood is out again in the Saxonburg district.

Yoho brothers, Wayne township have shown that steep land need not be worthless. About 20 years ago they planted several acres of rough land with evergreen trees using mainly white pine, with some spruce and larch.

Many of these trees are over 20 feet in height and are still growing rapidly. By keeping stock from pasturing among the trees, and by pruning the lower limbs, they have permitted the trees to grow straight, so that within a comparatively short time, some trees can be removed for timber.

Under the trees the thick carpet of needles serves as a blotter to prevent the run-off of rain water, thus preventing erosion and supplying a more steady supply of water for springs and streams.

Any person planning to set out forest trees next spring should order trees now because the supply is limited. Some preparation for planting can be made this fall.

Largest Army Sponsored Post Exchange Is Opened on Main Street

TOKYO Nov. 5.—(INS)—GI Joe today was having his film in Tokyo.

Beer drinkers, dancers and especially souvenir hunters were having a field day as the largest army sponsored post exchange opened on the Ginza, Tokyo's Fifth avenue.

Known as "P-X Tokyo," the new center occupies an enormous sub-basement and one other floor of the former Hattori Jewelry and Watch company in the famous pre-war shopping center.

To protect servicemen from unscrupulous Jap merchants, the Army sent experienced buyers to comb the country for dolls, fans, kimonos, obis and trinkets to be resold at regular P-X prices.

Entertainment Highlights

Entertainment highlight at the new center is the presence of several hundred Geisha dancing partners, who can Blue Danube or cut a rug in the approved style.

They're all sizes, shapes and shades. Ranging from four feet to five feet seven inches, they appear in business suits, kimonos and obis and a few in daring evening decorations.

For a couple of yen, they'll trip the fantastic for three minutes with Joe and join him for cola drinks, ice cream or beer—draft or bottle.

Before the doors opened today a two-hour crowd of more than 7,000 bluejacket sets and soldiers overflowed into the street, blocking traffic.

Jap 'Death Ray' No Defense For Atomic Attacks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(INS)—Sen. Warren Magnuson (D., Wash.) said today that the Japanese "death ray" would be no better defense than a hunter with a rifle.

Magnuson stripped mystery from the widely-bruited ray developed by Jap scientists in scoffing off speculation that its ray possibly could deter atom bombs from their targets.

Follows Conferences

The senator's statement followed conferences with American experts on radification and atomic fission including Dr. Vandever Bush, director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development and Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, physics professor at the University of California.

Members of a Senate Military-Commerce subcommittee studying legislation to create a science foundation, Magnuson disclosed that American scientists have bounced the "death ray" out of cast for any future war.

The original idea of the ray assertedly was that it could be focused on an airplane engine, causing the motor to stop. Speculation that the instrument might be perfected to halt airplanes carrying atomic bombs brought this comment from the senator:

Will Take Chances

"We'll take our chances on the B-29. A hunter could do a lot better with a rifle and at lot less expense."

Magnuson recalled that Japanese professor Wagi claimed to have killed a rabbit at 20 yards with an 80-centimeter radar beam focused from a five foot parabolic reflector with power source considered either low or medium in the United States.

"It is not likely that America will follow up the good professor's death ray tip," Magnuson said. "We have a far more effective treatment known as the atomic bomb. Its gamma rays at time of explosion are the most effective method of destruction known to man."

HIS SHIP'S IN!

As our boys come home, there's always a rush of Long Distance calls to many parts of the country. They mean a lot, those calls to home; and we know you want those returning veterans to get good service as much as we do. So please make none but necessary calls in the evening, the best time for service men to call home.

You won't be reading many more requests like this. Now that Western Electric has stopped producing for war, this manufacturing division of the Bell System is going all-out with us to bring back the Bell System's true standards of service. Among other things—and as early as next year—2,100,000 miles of Long Distance telephone circuits are to be added to the System. This will take a lot of the pressure off our lines . . . will be a big step toward your talking when, as often, and as long as you wish.

Curing and drying rubber by electronics much faster than the present method is the other development.

Motor Club Officer Urges Large Vote On Amendment

Pennsylvania voters have the opportunity of overcoming any threat to diversion of highway funds if they vote yes on Amendment number one on tomorrow's ballot," said B. J. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club today.

"The amendment will hold all motor gasoline and oil taxes in the highway fund and hence they can be used for nothing but highway and airway service," said Mr. Hanlon. "At the present time there is no legal barrier to the general assembly taking any or all of the highway funds."

Part of the amendment will provide any raid on the highway fund by every motorist and non-motorist who wishes to protect the state's billion and a half dollar highway investment should vote yes on Amendment number one on Tuesday, November 6.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Pa., Nov. 5.—(INS)—Six persons were injured today when a two-alarm fire gutted a three-story dwelling in Lawrenceville, causing damage estimated at $5000.

U.J.A. DINNER WELL ATTENDED

Attorney Milton K. Sussman, Pittsburgh, Tells About Chaotic Europe Of Today

Milton K. Sussman, prominent Pittsburgh attorney, who was discharged from the U. S. Army four weeks ago, was the speaker at the well-attended United Jewish Appeal dinner held Sunday evening at Temple Israel.

Mr. Sussman is a veteran of service overseas, during which time he visited the horror concentration camps at Dachau, Bavaria; Belsen, Buchenwald and Nordhausen, to mention only a few. Last evening Mr. Sussman exchanged with his audience a few "impressions" of these camps which the Nazis favored to call "educational institutions".

Gives Vivid Picture

In a vivid manner he described the destitution and destruction which exist in Europe today. He told of the horror gas chamber, which he visited and wherein thousands of those of the Jewish race were put to death. Mr. Sussman described the mountain-high pile of shoes found in Dachau, signifying the owners had paid the supreme sacrifice. It was also noted that a very high percentage of the shoes were infants' footwear.

Mr. Sussman is a qualified speaker for the U. J. A., for he is familiar with the Jewish problem which exists today. Approximately four to four and a half million Jews were killed in Europe, with perhaps a million and a quarter reaching havens of safety in other lands. At the present time there are in Europe 11,000 Jewish orphans who are scattered in Europe, and for these children Palestine is their land of hope and promise.

Splendid Achievements

Palestine has opened its door in the last few years to approximately 650,000 people of the Jewish race. Here they have realized the actuality of a safe haven, for Palestine is industrially, economically and socially well advanced. However, preparation and transportation facilities for sending the refugees to Palestine are lacking at present, but through the U. J. A. this appeal can be accomplished. Mr. Sussman concluded by extending hearty congratulations to the U. J. A. dinner chairman, Phil Wimer. Mr. Wimer presented a timely message on the post-war situation and thanked all for their participation. He later introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Sussman. The meeting concluded with Louis Sandler in charge.

Council convened in city hall Monday, and after criticizing the county commissioners' actions in regard to property taken over by the county and against which the city holds liens, instructed the city's legal department to present bids Wednesday for the former Planters' land on Sampson street, which the city would like to acquire. The City Recreation board said it was explained, will present a bid on the Phillips' heirs' property of Wilmington and Laurel Avenue, which the commission wants for recreation purposes.

According to council, the entire tax and debt against the Sampson street property amounts to about $7,000, and the city is interested in the extent of $6,300 because of paying less than unpaid taxes. The city does not believe it should be required to bid on the property.

Some in council expressed the opinion the council should adopt condemnation proceedings to acquire it, but Senator Robert White said that title would be better if the city presented a bid and be remarried of the $7,000, the city has $6,300 in it, hence the city will bid sufficiently high to get it.

Relative to the Wilmington avenue-Laurel boulevard land which is 4.6 acres, Mayor John F. Haven said one proposed bidder expressed a desire to let in the interests and if successful would rent it to the city. The mayor said that such an affair would not prove successful and suggested:

In asking the court to accept the appeal, Montgomery Ward pointed out that the labor dispute which gave rise to the government seizure had not yet been settled.

The government might be expected in the future, Ward contended to exercise its remaining war powers to seize once again the Ward properties if future strikes should ensue.

RADIO TELEPHONE SERVICE STARTS

the local yards have moved slowly at times in the classification yards. With the new system installed yesterday, the man in control of operations at the hump, where the cars are cut loose and drifted down onto the various tracks where the trains are being made up for assignment to different points on the system, east and west, can talk directly to the engineer. Heretofore signals have been given by hand or by a big fog horn.

The equipment installed yesterday is temporary, and will be supplanted by a fixed and permanent system, just as soon as the needed equipment can be secured from the factory. This first installation was only on the engines pushing the cars up to the hump. Later others will be equipped.

CENTRAL CONTROL POINT

When the permanent installation is made, there will be a central control point in the terminal trainmaster's office, with three other control points in the yard, so that the yard office can be in constant communication with the crews in charge of engines switching the trains. The high frequency wave length will have a range of around 15 miles, so that the central control point will be able to reach all points in the yards. It has been assigned a specific wave-length between license issued by the federal communications system.

This installation here is believed to be the first by any railroad of high frequency equipment.

Davies, which instructed City Robert White to institute mandatory proceedings against commissioners of Lawrence county because of the latter's asserted refusal to accept a patient in the Jameson Memorial hospital at the Jameson home.

The motion came after it had been alledged by council that the county commissioners in various affairs had acted inimical to interests of the city.

The motion was preceded by a heated discussion concerning property against which the city holds liens.

Baruch Warns About Foreign, Domestic Issues

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(INS)—Bernard M. Baruch left before the nation today his advice on domestic and foreign problems.

In a letter to Rep. Gore (D) Tenn., Baruch warned that only full production will stop a disastrous inflation and that if strikers persist the government will have to use vigorous methods to remove this barrier to peaceful output.

At the same time, Baruch declared that the United States must be careful in extending aid to foreign countries "that this aid is not used to nationalize their industries against us, to destroy our own competitive system."

Baruch said "the race of selfishness is on" and added:

"The miracle of American production can save the situation now as it did in the war, but it must hurry, hurry, hurry!"

Touching on the labor-management problem, he continued:

"For years I have had high hopes of collective bargaining and intelligent leadership in management and labor to bring about understanding without interference of government."

Strife Must Cease

"Reaction from the war effort has caused much of the unrest, but unless strife ceases soon, government must take a hand, and a strong one, in the interest of the contestants, the public and itself."

Baruch declared that without full production "we cannot keep any semblance of modern, civilized government." He added:

"With this full production we can escape inflation. Labor and management must be made to realize this. Labor disputes cannot continue to interfere with production as they do."

The noted financier, in warning the country to be careful in making foreign loans, said that "England, Czechoslovakia, France and other countries are nationalizing or are about to nationalize their industries."

He said that Russia "has nationalized herself—one buyer and one seller—and is nationalizing all countries coming under her legs."

Commenting on taxes, the statesmen said excessive tax reduction may be "seriously inflationary" and the tax cut in the bill just approved by congress should have been "more considered."

Drastic Orders

At Le Havre For Allied Troops

LE HAVRE, Nov. 5.—(INS)—A virtual non-fraternization order was imposed for the first time in a liberated country today when all cafes, restaurants, hotels and private homes were ruled to be off-limits to Anglo-American troops in Le Havre.

The action by the port commanding officer followed a series of shootings and assaults over the last two months in this most important of redeployment ports.

The climax came yesterday when the newspaper "Havre Libre" declared editorially that the city's population was "uneasy" because of insecurity in the streets after nightfall.

All American and British army, navy, and air force personnel are affected by the order as are all Anglo-American civilians attached to the armed forces.

BROYLES RETIRES

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 5.—(INS)—William A. Broyles retired today as president emeritus of agricultural education at the Pennsylvania state college after a quarter century of service.

He has claimed to have taught practically every agricultural instructor now employed in Pennsylvania's 360 schools of vocational agriculture.

He said he would visit several southern colleges and universities during the winter as a guest instructor in teaching methods.

Rising Labor Movement In Japan Is Noted

Congressman Proposes Extension Of Scope Of Anti-Trust Laws Of Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(INS)—Rep. F. E. Herbert (D) La. offered a new approach today to the problem of postwar industrial strikes, which he charged are "crippling and obstructing" the national re-conversion program.

Herbert announced that he would introduce an amendment to the federal Anti-Trust Act to place labor officials under the law which banned at "prohibiting and penalizing every combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce."

The growing food shortage prompted hundreds of thousands of city-dwellers to head for the country over the week-end to purchase their own supplies.

The Tokyo newspaper, Mainichi, reported that half a million Tokyo Japs overtaxed railroad facilities Saturday and Sunday in a mass movement to Saitama prefecture to buy sweet potatoes.

Another four hundred thousand Tokyoans were said to have made a similar mission to Chiba prefecture over the week-end.

Frantic To Get Supplies

The crowds thronged the trains from roof to axle in their frantic efforts to get supplies.

Special "food" trains were operated to Chiba and hundreds of persons slept in the Chiba railroad station overnight.

The Japanese government apparently had no immediate plans to aid food distribution but was preparing to meet the rising tide of unionism with labor legislation.

It was learned that a labor union act is being drafted and will be put into operation by the welfare ministry.

The Jiji labor survey showed that 2,000 coal workers on Hokkaido Island have formed a union and that seamen are organizing at southern Hokkaido ports.

Complicating the union movement was the growing postwar unemployment.

It was pointed out that loss of Japanese fishing rights in northern waters alone threw 200,000 Japanese out of work.

Spar Band Gives Victory Bond Concert Here

Any of us who had some old-fashioned idea that service women did a job inferior to their brothers tossed those ideas away Saturday night November 3, in the Cathedral, when the SPAR band played a ninety-minute concert. The Coast Guard girls proved their right to equal honors with male service bands, and in all honesty the SPAR band was one of the best service units ever to play.

The band has 33 members under the direction of Lt. Martha Reddick. From the first number you knew that here was a band that had been drilled by someone who knew the score, for the young ladies responded to direction like foot soldiers in a competitive drill. Attack, release, balance of parts, all of them right and the concert was one of delight the entire time they were on stage.

Interesting Program
Being a band and not an orchestra one might have expected a lot of John Philip Sousa with the brass getting a play all the time. Instead the program was pleasantly diversified. "Babes in Toyland," the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," a Morton Gould symphony, and a trick arrangement of "Stormy Weather" which was helped by Bob Thompson's handling of the lights.

Virginia Harrington, a Nebraskan did a job of baton twirling that demonstrated why she was national champion in 1942. June Spalding was heard in a vocal solo and six of the SPARS did a burlesque of the "Rockettes" that was humorous. Altogether the program was one that deserved a full house instead of the approximate 350 it drew.

The SPAR band was here as a part of the exploitation of the Victory Loan. Co-Chairman Clarence M. England opened the program with an introduction of Lt. Reddick, and at half time introduced Judge W. Walter Braham, county bond chairman who spoke on the Victory Loan.

Voodooism Blamed
For Despoilation Of New Jersey Grave

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J., Nov. 5—(INS)—Black magic and voodooism today surrounded the probe into the despoilation of a grave in Calvary cemetery where the stilled bones of Mrs. Marian Stockman was cut out by ghouls.

Camden county authorities expressed the belief that only maniacal cultists would dug through six feet of soil and then crawled through a concrete vault and wooden casket to reach the heart of the newly-buried victim.

Cemetery employees throughout the area were queried on whether they had observed any suspicious circumstances on the first day after interment on other recent burials.

Robbery Not Motive

"Robbery was not the motive asserted Coroner Joseph L. Mavretus. "The only piece of jewelry buried with Mrs. Stockman—a gold wedding ring—still remained on her finger. I believe her grave was selected because it had been filled in only on Friday afternoon and the earth was still soft and easy to dig."

It was pointed out that the despoilers went through great pains in reaching the heart of the 34-year-old woman. A 40-pound grave marker was used to hammer an opening in the concrete vault and the casket and the ghoul must have literally stood on his head while digging out the heart, authorities said.

Five Dangerous
Convicts Moved To New Prison

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5—(INS)—Five prisoners described as the Eastern Penitentiary's most dangerous convicts were lodged today at the Philadelphia county prison at Holmesburg.

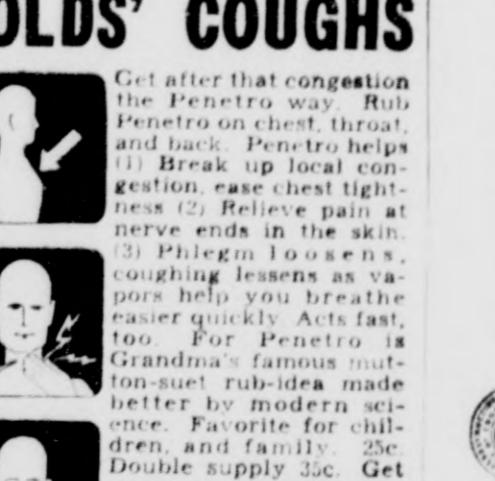

Arthur B. Otto, board of inspectors president of the county prison, said that the men, four of whom took part in the tunnel escape from Cherry Hill last April 3, had been lodged in separate cell blocks.

The prisoners, William F. Slick, Willie Sutton, David Aikens, Clarence Kleindienst, 34, Frederick Tenuto, 30, a killer, and Spencer Walden, 39, were reported leaders of disorders at Eastern Penitentiary. Walden, who is serving 15 to 30 years, did not participate in the tunnel escape.

He's Coming Home

By MRS. JONATHAN WAINWRIGHT
Skaneateles, New York

"He's coming home!" Those words have been repeated countless times by millions of American women during the past four years and are now being echoed by millions of women's voices as their husbands, sons and sweethearts return from the battlefronts. These were my words when news of my husband's rescue reached me. They are the fulfillment of the many hours of waiting, hoping—and praying.

The homecoming of their fighting men represents a large part of women's share in victory. And it is good to remember that women had a share in achieving that victory, too. Not only did many join the various women's branches of the armed forces, but all of them assumed important duties at home. In the factories and on the farms they helped to produce vital needed materials of war; they worked as nurses' aids and Red Cross volunteers; they served in the blood banks and they bought bonds to pay for the guns and tanks and ships and planes needed by their men overseas.

Some of these tasks are finished; others remain as peace-time responsibilities. Several million men must still be brought home; many of whom have returned cannot care for and restored to health. To meet the gigantic expenses of these and other post-war needs, the active support of the Victory Loan.

MRS. WAINWRIGHT

Treasury Department is conducting a final bond drive—the Victory Loan.

Once again, as in the seven war loans which have preceded it, women must form the core of the volunteer army of bond sales people upon whose efforts the success of the drive depends. We fortunate ones who have returned cannot cease our efforts now. It is our sacred duty to help the joyful reunions yet to come through our active support of the Victory Loan.

Later, she said the landlord unlocked the apartment and they discovered the suicide.

Hakes left a will which the couple did not make public. In his possession were $3,000 in bonds, $627 in cash and checks and two return trip airline tickets to New York.

RELIEF IN YEAR $55,000.000

HARRISBURG Nov. 5—(INS)—The Department of Public Assistance reported today that the state and federal governments expected approximately $55,000,000 for relief in Pennsylvania during the fiscal year which ended May 31.

The report contrasted the relief burden with the 1936-39 fiscal year when expenditures topped $287,000,000.

The American Automobile Association's "victory bulletin," released by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, has disclosed that the United States will benefit through secret oil discoveries made by German scientists. The bulletin explained that the veil of secrecy was being lifted on the findings of American army experts regarding the work of German scientists and technologists in the automotive field. "The Germans had made significant advances in petroleum research and in the application of new formulas including the extracting of petroleum from coal and shale as well as the development of additives for lubricating oils," the bulletin commented.

Our speaker this week will be Rev. F. V. Stanczewski, one of our own members, who will discuss the subject, "The New World Order." This is a timely subject, and its discussion by one of our own members should prove of interest. On November 14, the annual anniversary party will take place in Westfield Grange Hall, which also will be observed as Ladies' Night, so make your plans now.

Two Hunters Are Wounded Saturday

Men Receive Charge From Shotgun While Hunting Near New Wilmington Saturday

Henry A. Brenner, aged 32 years, of 810 Arlington avenue, and Roy Maloney, aged 34 years, of 307 Arlington avenue, escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon, but were peppered with shot from a 12-gauge shotgun while hunting on the Morse farm, about a mile and half south of New Wilmington. They were treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, but were able to return to their homes after treatment.

Brenner, it is said, had just killed a rabbit, and was holding it up in the act of cleaning it, when a shotgun in the hands of another hunter was discharged at a distance of around 30 feet. The pellets struck Brenner and Maloney in the arms, abdomen, and face, but did not inflict serious injuries.

According to Brenner and Maloney, the hunter who wounded them was a man named Andy Ross.

Conn Answers Gene Tunney's Recent Tirade

Conn Offers To Battle Tunney And Ray Robinson
Same Day Same Ring

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Gene Tunney seems to have popped off one time too many.

Perhaps you read that column in which Bill Conn quoted the former heavyweight champion as saying that Ray Robinson, the Negro welterweight, could beat Billy Conn in a 15-round match. Tunney went on to say, with a slight suspicion of slaver around his mouth, that the Louis-Conn match is a travesty and that if it draws any money at all it will only prove that the public is made up of dopes. He didn't say that exactly, but that was the sense of it.

Conn Answers

"Tell Tunney for me," said Billy Conn today, "that I've got a guy who will be $200,000 that I can lick Tunney and Robinson on the same afternoon in the gym."

This should be sufficient answer to Tunney, who during the course of his story said that Conn wasn't even in as good a shape as Tunney for a fight.

"Tell him," Conn said over long distance from Baltimore, "that I will be glad to take him and Robinson any afternoon at any place they name for any amount."

Gene Will Ignore It

Tunney's reaction to this will be a dignified shrug of the shoulder. He doesn't plan to box anybody now. But if he thinks he is doing anything to show how terrible this match next June might be he is wrong. When he talks about it not drawing $30,000,000 as he did, he only helps the buildup with his morning in on the situation. It might draw $30,000,000 if he keeps on popping off.

"You can say for me," said Conn, "that in my entire career as a boxer I have never been thrown out of a ring for stalling. Ask Tunney if he can say the same thing."

"Ask Tunney why he is worrying about my drawing a $30,000,000 gate when he cashed in on a couple of the biggest gates of all time because Dempsey was a drawing card."

Conn Angered

"And tell Tunney once more for me that I will take him and the guy he is stalling for, Ray Robinson, in any ring they name at any time for any amount. Let him put up or shut up."

Conn said that in his opinion Tunney always ranked about 10th among the heavyweight, but now he is down to about 100th.

"And what business is it of Tunney if Louis and I don't go out and punch over a lot of push-overs?" Conn asked. "In his time that was an accepted practice. Everybody did it. This was part of the buildup or Tunney never would have been able to get in the ring with Dempsey. I would like to have a few warmup bouts and I think I need them, but what Tunney doesn't understand is that I will still be able to fight without them and I believe win the heavyweight title."

Head-Linesman Is Thrown For Loss

CHICAGO, Nov. 5—INS—Police Commissioner James P. Allman, no great shakes as a football player, threw Lou Gordon, former football star for the University of Illinois, the Chicago Bears and Cardinals, for a 15-day loss.

Gordon, now a patrolman, reported he was ill recently and was released from work for a couple of days. But the sports-page reading commissioner noticed his absent patrolman's name listed as head linesman at a Cleveland Rams-Chicago Bears football game at Cleveland.

Thus the 15-day suspension.

Ex-servicemen newly admitted to Penn State are eager for the opportunity to play football.

T-Formation Is Explained

Clark Shaughnessy, Ralph Jones Deserve Credit For Developing T

By RALPH CANNON

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Two men usually are credited with the present value of the T-formation, which has brought about a totalitarian revolution in football.

They are Ralph Jones and Clark Shaughnessy. Jones probably deserves the credit for preventing the T from becoming extinct, and Shaughnessy deserved the credit for the innovations that modernized it.

Shaughnessy, for example, developed the signal system by which, instead of making the linemen robots who simply went through the motions of carry out fixed and explicit moves, they are held responsible only for accomplishment.

Explains System

In explaining his basic approach to the problem, Shaughnessy said:

"Always in the past the offense sought to end up its power in a ball and then explode it splitting the defense. The effort was always made to stretch the defense out thin and then penetrate it. That was the idea back of Warner's double-wingbacks, and Rockne's shift."

"Our approach was exactly the opposite."

Instead of trying to roll up the offense in a ball, we aimed at rolling up the defense in as small an area as possible and then to run around it or to throw over it.

To accomplish this we shuttled the tackles and ends back and forth along the line of scrimmage laterally, and shifted the guards, sometimes in an unbalanced line and sometimes in a balanced line. This maneuvering of the shuttling tackles and ends, the shifting guards, and the man-in-motion forced the defense out of a set position."

Commission On Durable Peace
Meets ThursdayON COURT
HOUSE HILLMARRIAGE LICENSE
APPLICATIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(INS)—The commission on a just and durable peace, headed by John Foster Dulles, will meet in Philadelphia Thursday and Friday to map strategy aimed at furthering the successful operation of the world's peace machinery.

The commission, instituted by the federal council of churches, will hear a report on the international situation by Dulles, who has headed the commission since its formation in 1940.

Dulles returned recently from the council of foreign ministers in London, where he served as adviser to Secretary of State James Byrnes. He also was a general adviser to the American delegation at the San Francisco conference.

The commission will consider three phases of peace:

(1) United Nations organization—how to develop its curative and creative function to create fellowship among peoples; (2) peace settlement—what principles should be espoused and what compromise should be tolerated; (3) spiritual peace and reconciliation—eradication of hatred and application of works of mercy.

The commission is expected to draft a statement to the nation's Protestant churches and suggest a course of action for their consideration.

Report 625 Men
In Japan Enlist
In Regular Army

TOKYO, Nov. 5.—(INS)—Six hundred and twenty-five men of the famed American division, which was the first army unit to take the offensive in the Pacific war, enlisted Saturday in the regular army.

Four hundred seventy-five enlisted men took the oath of induction at division headquarters in Tokyo, while the remainder went through similar ceremonies throughout the division during the day.

The enlistees included men from Headquarters 182nd regiment, the 121st Medical battalion, the 721st Ordnance company, the 125th Quartermaster company and the military police platoon.

The American division's 65th regiment relieved the Marines at Guadalcanal in autumn, 1942—the first army unit to take over in the war.

The division is being demobilized and high point men are now en route to the United States.
